Nancy Regan is an accomplished facilitator who uses her energy and diverse experience to increase organizations' strengths and performance. She draws from 15 years of experience in a number of industries, including consumer package goods, telecommunications, pharmaceutical, recreation, technology and financial services, to create customized solutions that deliver organizational and team results.

Nancy has led a number of interactive, performance-based programs that focus on key areas of leadership including performance management, coaching, interpersonal management, communications skills and team building.

As an associate with n-gen People Performance Inc. her expertise in human resources and learning and development are leveraged to help clients better manage, engage, and lead a multigenerational workforce.

Nancy has a Bachelors degree in Sociology from the University of Guelph, and is a certified Training Director and Instructional Designer & Developer.

In addition to her professional passions, Nancy brings her dedication and energy to her community. She is a tireless fundraiser, raising over $100,000.00 for cancer research through several events she independently created, promoted and executed. Nancy is also a veteran ½ marathon runner. She brings the energy and dedication that fuels her through a 21.6 km race to every program she develops and facilitates.
